A collaborative workshop was organised by SEED: Promoting Entrepreneurship for Sustainable Development in the form of a Policy Solution Prototyping Lab on the topic “Fostering the Circular Economy: Role of MSMEs”

The 2-day workshop focused on co-creating prototypes of solutions/policy mechanisms that can potentially tackle the challenges identified in the previous labs. There was also a public showcase of the developed prototypes on the second day, where representatives from the public sector were invited to give feedback and inputs on the improvement of the solution prototypes.

Mohak Gupta from Development Alternatives participated in the lab. The event was conducted by SEED in partnership with TERI and saw participation from various organisations including policy research institutions and think tanks, academia, enterprises working on circularity principles, etc.
